CENTRAL COAST SUB-BRANCH UPDATE: CHANGE TO SUPPORT GROUP

FINAL PRESIDENT'S REPORT – Pamela Gray: President 2024 – 2026

With a tinge of sadness that I address you for the last time. However, we've come to realise it's time for a change. We started as a small gathering of ladies and have grown to an organisation throughout our vast nation. Their needs and hopes for friendship have been well achieved. Our inaugural President, Robyn Creswell, outlined it so well at our last (Electoral) AGM 2024 as she stepped down once again. I took over from her to enable us, as a Subbranch to continue.

Unfortunately, due to age, health and family commitments I can't continue, as is the case with my very loyal and hardworking secretary, Wendy. I wish to thank her for her diligence and commitment. My Committee comprised: our Secretary Wendy, Treasurer Carolin, Vice-President Rona, Welfare Officer Helen and last, but certainly not least, Newsletter Editor Robyn. These girls worked very hard over the years. Carolin and Helen will continue in their roles.

We've lost two lovely members since our 2024 AGM: Christine Gammie and Fay Carlin; both ladies have been sorely missed. Good news however; a new member Marlene Brooks, has joined us.

Last year we certainly slowed down but enjoyed getting together at the Japanese Gardens and Grill'd. The latter was also a 'fundraiser' along with the Cancer Council Big Morning Tea. We had visits from a representative from Veterans Connect and The Fire and Safety Brigade – bringing their fire engine as well.

That's it from me and my hard-working committee as we look forward to our new Social Club venture; remembering of course that we will still be under the P.V.A. State Legislation. Under the Constitution of the Partners of Veterans of Australia Inc. Part 3 Section 2, as we are unable to form a Committee, The Central Coast Sub-Branch will now cease to operate.

NOW . . . CENTRAL COAST SUPPORT GROUP

This group has continued to be active over recent months, attending and being involved in several events.

VIETNAM VETERANS' DAY

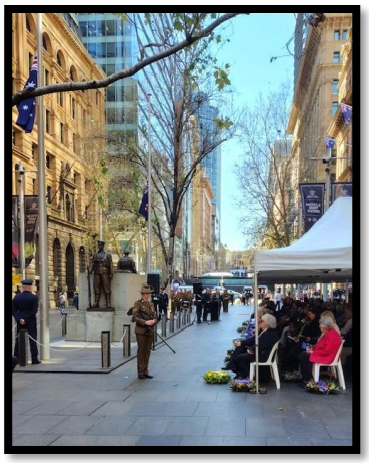

Some of the members of the Central Coast group were honoured to join our P.V.A. N.S.W. Patron, Lady Lynne Cosgrove, in commemorating the 60th Anniversary of the Battle of Long Tan at the Ettalong service

ST GEORGES DEFENCE HOLIDAY SUITES HOLIDAY – 2026

We regret to advise that we have had to cancel our intended booking for a week's holiday in September this year as we were unsuccessful in obtaining a funding grant from DVA. We hope to be able to re-schedule this very valuable and enjoyable time away at a future date.

LEGACY HOUSE – MOSS VALE

Following our recent PVA allocated time at Legacy House, this report was submitted by Elaine Smith:

"Another wonderful time spent in Moss Vale , what a wonderful time to visit the area, but then I think Moss Vale would be great not matter what time of the year we visited. We were lucky to the most beautiful weather and mostly sunny days.

As this was only my second visit to the house, it was lovely meeting the other ladies from various parts of the state and missed seeing others I met last year who couldn't make it this time. A big thank you to Nicky and her team for making our stay very relaxing and enjoyable they all do a wonderful job. I look forward to the information and dates for 2027 coming out, and no matter when it is on, if I'm available to go I'll be putting my name down."

Further feedback, received from Jo Aubrey (ACT) and of some of her group who also enjoyed time at Legacy House:

"Wanted to let you know our time in Legacy House was appreciated. Nikki and her team looked after us. The girls' company and sharing along with our road trips seeing the fabulous countryside, movie, all good. It was a great time away and a lovely time to visit and see the area at different time of the year.

A mid-year holiday gives us an opportunity to take part in end of year festivities, and family time. Thanks again to Legacy and P.V.A. for our holiday."

P.V.A. N.S.W. – LIFE MEMBERSHIP AWARDS

At our State Annual General Meeting held in Blacktown (Sydney) in mid-September, it was announced that two Members (both from the Central Coast) who have performed exceptional service for or on behalf of the Association for a period of not less than five (5) years have been granted Life Membership in recognition of their contributions. These Members are Helen Purcell and Maureen Bland. We congratulate both these terrific ladies and wish to acknowledge our appreciation of their efforts.

Lady Lynne Cosgrove (our Patron) presented the Life Membership badge to Helen at this Meeting.

Since Maureen could not be in attendance at the AGM, Helen presented her Life Membership Badge to her at their Central Coast September Meeting.

DEPARTMENT OF VETERANS SERVICES PAYMENTS

DVA have announced that from 20 September 2026 some veterans and veteran family members will receive an increase in their DVA pension and compensation payments. This includes any Energy Supplement payable.

The first full payment at the new rate will be on the payday of 15 October 2026. You don't need to do anything to receive the increase: it will be applied automatically. Payments made on the payday of 1 October will cover the period from 15 September to 28 September 2026 and will include entitlements calculated at both the old and new rates.

Deeming rates are used to calculate deemed income from your financial investments (eg shares, bank accounts), regardless of actual returns; however, the value of your home is not included in this. This deemed income counts toward the income test; the actual returns are not counted. The income test, along with the assets test, determines your entitlement to the Service Pension, Income Support Supplement and Veteran Payment.

From 20 September 2026 DVA will adopt a new deeming rate of 1.75% (currently 1.25%) which will apply to financial assets under $66,800 for singles and $110,600 combined four couples. Any remaining balance over these amounts will be deemed at a rate of 3.75% (currently 3.25%).

To find out more about deeming rates, please visit this page on the DVA website:
Deeming and financial assets

For more information on the new pension and compensation rates, either call 1800 VETERAN (1800 838 372) or visit the DVA website: www.dva.gov.au.

UPDATE FROM OPAN – Acting CEO, Karen Doyle

OPAN | Older Persons Advocacy Network

The Older Persons Advocacy Network (OPAN) is a national, non-profit organisation funded by the Australian Government.

Its primary mission is to uphold the rights and interests of older Australians who are seeking or receiving government-funded aged care services, including home care packages, residential care, and support-at-home programs (OPAN provides free, confidential advocacy and support). There are many older people in the community who do not qualify for these services under DVA guidelines, and who rely on other government-funded aged care services.

OPAN recently published this summary relating to the announcement by Minister Butler with regard to older people requiring regular assistance with showering, dressing and support with continence management. The announcement will make a significant difference to the lives of older people requiring these services, who will no longer have to face associated out-of-pocket costs.

Commencing on 1 October 2026, these essential personal care services will move into the 'clinical care' category of Support at Home, fully removing co-contributions. The government said this change 'responds directly to feedback from older people, their families, advocates, and providers' – reaffirming the real impact of meaningful systemic advocacy efforts.

OPAN also welcomes the additional funding for aged care – particularly the incentives and increased payments for residential aged care providers to accept supported residents to ensure greater equity of access for those that cannot afford to pay for their aged care.

Network member advocates have reported that there are instances where providers have declined older people who couldn't pay for their care, and these measures should contribute to addressing this issue. We were also glad to see additional funding for services to support people living with dementia.

AUSTRALIAN WAR MEMORIAL REDEVLOPMENT

The current redevelopment of the Australian War Memorial (AWM) in Canberra is the largest and most significant building project since it opened in 1941 and is known as "Our Continuing Story".

It is intended to modernise the Memorial, improve visitor access and create new gallery space to tell the stories of Australians who have served in conflicts, peacekeeping operations and humanitarian missions since World War II.

The Australian Government committed approximately $498 million, with the overall cost now exceeding $500million. Construction commenced in 2020 and is expected to continue through to 2028. This redevelopment has not been without controversy: some architects, historians and heritage advocates argued that the project was too large, too expensive and risked diminishing the significance of the original heritage-listed building; as well as questioning whether such a large investment was necessary or whether the demolition of the original Anzac Hall should have occurred. Supporters argued that the Memorial must evolve to reflect Australia's military history after 1945 and that contemporary veterans deserve recognition equal to that accorded to earlier generations. The inability of existing buildings to display many important artefacts was a major point.

WHY THE REDEVOPMENT WAS NEEDED

The Memorial was originally designed to commemorate Australians who served in the First and Second World Wars. However, over the past three decades more than 100,000 Australians have served in operations in Iraq, Afghanistan, East Timor, the Solomon Islands, peacekeeping missions and humanitarian deployments. The Memorial lacked sufficient space to adequately display many of the large objects, aircraft, vehicles and artefacts associated with these modern operations.

Many significant items remained in storage because galleries were too small to accommodate them – the redevelopment aims to ensure that contemporary veterans and their families see their experiences represented alongside those of earlier generations.

SCALE OF THE PROJECT

The redevelopment increases the Memorial's public and exhibition space by approximately 10,000 square metres (about 83%) in visitor accessible areas and aims to preserve the heritage-listed sandstone memorial building, Hall of Memory, Roll of Honour and commemorative areas. The project includes the following major areas:

- A New Southern Entrance – placed beneath the existing forecourt

This new entrance provides amore welcoming and accessible arrival experience for all visitors, including wheelchair users, families with prams and the elderly. A striking architectural feature is the large, glazed foyer and the "Oculus" – a circular skylight which echoes the shape of the Memorial's iconic dome.

- The Anzac Atrium – Centrepiece of the redevelopment

This vast glass-roofed space connects the heritage building to the new Anzac Halland allows the display of large artefacts previously hidden from public view.

- The New Anzac Hall – Replacing the original Anzac Hall (2001)

This was demolished and this significantly larger structure incorporates a roof design is inspired by the Australian Army's famous Rising Sun badge, creating a symbolic connection to military service.

The new hall provides space for some of the memorial's largest collection items and multimedia displays as well as allowing aircraft and military vehicles to be displayed in a more immersive manner. A major attraction will be the return of "G for George", the famous Lancaster bomber from WWII. The restored aviation mural by Harold Freedman – which tracks the development of military aviation – has also returned as a major feature.

- New Galleries and Display – dedicated to Australia's post-1945 military experience

These galleries will cover: Korea, Malay and Borneo, Vietnam, Peacekeeping Operations, East Timor, Iraq, Afghanistan and Humanitarian & Disaster Relief Operations. These exhibits are intended to place greater emphasis on peacekeeping and humanitarian missions, recognising that Australian service extends beyond combat operations – and represents the first-time veterans of these services will have their service displayed in a comprehensive national exhibition.

- Improved Visitor Experience – including better accessibility throughout

This involves improved orientation for visitors, modern climate control systems to protect artifacts, enhanced educational and research facilities as well as better visitor amenities.

- Landscape and Public Realm Improvement

The surrounding landscape has been redesigned to improve pedestrian access, visitor circulation and the overall appearance of the Memorial precinct, whilst preserving the alignment between Parliament House, Anzac Parade and the Australian War Memorial.

By 2026 many of the major new areas have already opened to the public, with additional redevelopment work within the heritage building continuing until 2028. When complete, visitors will be able to follow the Australian military story from the colonial period through the two World Wars and into modern conflicts, while viewing many large artifacts which have never previously been displayed in Canberra. While controversial, this transformation aims to ensure that the experiences of modern generations of Australian servicemen and women are preserved and interpreted alongside those of Gallipoli, the Western Front, Kokoda and other iconic campaigns – and hopefully will shape how Australians remember military service for decades to come.

Our next P.V.A. National News Magazine – due in December – will feature hi-lights of "Honouring the Hidden Service", our association's special event which will be held at the Australian War Memorial on 16 October 2026.

NOTICE OF ADDRESS CHANGE

Advice has been received from the local Federal Member about the relocation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs (DVA) Newcastle office.

Sharon has supplied this information to ensure local veterans and veteran organisations are aware of this change and know where to find DVA services when seeking assistance. The office has moved approximately one kilometre west from its former location on Auckland Street, Newcastle.

The new premises are now located at:

- Level 8, 727 Hunter Street Newcastle NSW
- Open Arms Veterans and Families Counselling services have also moved to this location, allowing veterans and their families to access both DVA and Open Arms services from the same premises.

The new location is approximately 250 metres from Newcastle Interchange and 250 metres from Marketown Shopping Centre, making it easily accessible for veterans travelling from across Newcastle and the wider Hunter region.

The new premises also includes a secure, multi-level carpark with ramp and lift access. Veterans and their families are encouraged to contact the DVA office before their appointment to enquire about the availability of visitor parking.

AUSTRALIAN GOVERNMENT MOBILE SERVICE CENTRES

If you live in a rural area, you may need to travel greater distances to access government payments and services. To make it easier for you to access these services, we're bringing them to you and your community. The Australian Government has set up mobile service centres to accomplish this. See below for details:

Mobile Service Centres travel extensively throughout rural and regional Australia and also to disaster affected areas to provide help and support. Staff from Services Australia travel with the Mobile Service centres and can hep you with Centrelink and Medicare payments and services. Our Mobile Service Centres have disabled access. Information about Department of Veterans' Affairs programmes and support services for veteran and their families will also be available.

Wi-Fi is available for visitors to the Mobile Service centre and staff will be able to help you create a myGov account. myGov is a simple and secure way to access government services online. Our staff will provide you with friendly, face-to-face service, information and support. From time to time, representatives from other government agencies also travel with the Mobile Service Centres.

Information, help and support provided to regional and rural communities by the Mobile Service Centres includes:

- Families
- Older Australians
- Students

POSITIONS VACANT – WELLBEING ADVOCATES & SUPPORT OFFICERS

Due to a recent decrease in the number of Wellbeing Advocates and Support Officers working with our Association we are now limited in the amount of Welfare assistance we are able to offer our Members. Any member who may wish to volunteer their time so that we can continue giving the qualified support that our Membership deserves can do so by offering support in either of these roles. If you are interested in allocating one or two hours a week/fortnight/month to assist with the wellbeing of partners and their families, please contact: nswpresident@pva.org.au.

Role of a Wellbeing Advocate

As a Wellbeing Advocate (WA) you are accredited through the Advocacy Training and Development Program (ATDP). While providing services, assistance and support to clients Advocates are provided with Public Liability Insurance coverage by the Partners of Veterans Assoc. Inc. (PVA) through the Veterans' Indemnity and Training Association Inc (VITA) once you pass the course and throughout your tenure in the position. Currently, there are over 35 organisations that are members of VITA.

Regular courses are available through ATDP to assist you in establishing what you will need to know in order to fulfill your Wellbeing Advocacy role.

The Role of a Wellbeing Support Officer

Whilst the Advocacy Training & Development Program (ATDP) does not provide formal training for Wellbeing Support Officers (WSOs) as is the case for Wellbeing and Compensation Advocates, PVA NSW will ensure that you are provided with some initial skills, mentoring support.

A WSO is unaccredited and whilst working for the veteran community under the auspice of PVA is covered by the Volunteers Insurance under the PVA National Insurance.

As a WSO your role is to assist the Wellbeing Advocate which generally means that you are required to undertake straightforward tasks, work under routine direction against established priorities and procedures while exercising some autonomy.

WSOs may be required to undertake procedural, clerical, administrative support and operational tasks and provide basic assistance and support to Advocates for Partners, Veterans and their Families.
